AAA Movers and Rose's Daughters Partner to Produce the Ultimate Senior Move Experience

Packing/Unpacking, Downsizing, Organizing, Sorting,
Clearing, Shipping, Storage, Waste Removal & Moving

Minneapolis, MN: AAA Movers, a leader in the moving industry and Rose's Daughters, a leader in the senior move management industry, announce their partnership. In joining forces, these leaders will maintain their consistency and commitment to produce the ultimate senior move for their customers and communities. Both companies are members of the National Association of Senior Move Managers (NASMM).

AAA Movers is a full service storage and moving company in Minneapolis that's been delivering excellent service to Minneapolis, St. Paul, and beyond for over 50 years. They're an award-winning leader in residential and corporate moves, and they're proudly committed to ensuring your move is the best you'll ever make. They handle each of your possessions as if it were their own.

Rose's Daughters is a senior move management company in Minneapolis servicing the twin cities and surrounding area with a personal touch approach for over 16 years. They continue to help people and seniors who are adapting to a new living situation or just needing their services to improve their quality of living.

Owner of AAA Movers, Joe Schwartz said, "... AAA Movers has been providing professional moving services in the Twin Cities since 1964, Our Team completes around 8,000 moves per year with our current demographic between 35-50 years of age. I knew for AAA to provide exemplary service to the Senior Community we would need to partner with Rose's Daughters who has been the leading name in this industry for decades. When I first met Eddie and Tommy I knew right then this is who AAA would match very well with, their passion in this industry is paramount, I also love their hands-on approach with every move! This partnership will let AAA focus on what we're great at...moving!"

Owner of Rose's Daughters, Eddie McGill said, "We have stayed true to our core beliefs with our customers. They appreciate our personal touch approach. I couldn't be happier to partner with a leader like AAA Movers to continue servicing our communities. This partnership will maintain our consistent, superb level of service for our customers. This is exciting for the communities we serve."

As partners, AAA Movers and Rose's Daughters will maintain this experience:

- Professional move-related services with respect and understanding to their customers and their families
- Handle every move as if it were their own
- Use their superior industry knowledge and a real understanding of the issues to make their customers' moves as stress free as possible
- Offer strategic counsel, creative solutions and timely, responsive move services
